

COOKIN' OUTDOORS

with

Johnny Nix

Johnny Nix, the nation's leading expert on cooking over the open fire, is back and Cookin' Outdoors. He enjoys sharing his knowledge and techniques traveling around the country side giving demonstrations and holding cooking clinics empowering participants to cook successfully outdoors. With his laid back southern charm he teaches basic to advanced techniques to help everyone master the art of open fire cooking.

Johnny first started cooking over 25 years ago when he and his wife Wanda would go camping and trail riding with their horses. His smile and southern hospitality welcomed many fellow campers to join them when he would ask "Y'all Eat Yet?" His entertaining demeanor and culinary skills delighted fellow campers and made him a welcome staff member at many trail rides and equine events.

As host of the popular television series Campfire Cafe which aired for over 4 years on the RFD network, Johnny amazed viewers as he prepared gourmet meals from Rack of Lamb to Black Forest Ribbon Cake over the fire. The show offered a real "taste" of the great outdoors and gave new meaning to the term smell-a-vision.

Visit www.yalleatyet.com for more information to schedule a clinic or demonstration in your area or contact us at nix@yalleatyet.com.

Come out and join Johnny Nix at the 2010 National DOG October 8-10, at Lake Bistineau State Park. He will be sharing some great tips and techniques for cooking over the fire, and best of all sharing free samples of his food. For a schedule of all the events visit www.bayoupots.org

Cookin' Outdoors: 1383 Co. Rd. 479 * Albertville, AL. 35951 * (256) 561-3409 * www.yalleatyet.com